OPPORTUNITY FOR PARENTS TO LEARN NURTURING SKILLS

Snow Hill, 05/01/06 Worcester County parents are invited to participate in The Nurturing Program, a nationally recognized parent workshop, that will be offered at the Worcester County Health Department Prevention Office in Snow Hill beginning May 9th. The program, designed for parents and their infants, toddlers, and preschoolers, is free of charge and includes a meal and co-facilitators for the children and the parents.

“This is an opportunity to connect with other parents and discuss developmental stages, expectations, and techniques for managing behavior in the early years which will help throughout the growing years.” says Marty Pusey, Director of Prevention Services at the Worcester Country Health Department. The Nurturing Programs were developed by Dr. Stephen J. Bavolek who has a great deal of success in teaching nurturing, caring attitudes, and skills.

This program is designed to meet the demands of today’s families by providing a convenient time and place at no cost to the families. A program manual is provided to the family members and a light meal will be served. The workshops will be held on Tuesday evenings from 6:00 – 7:30 p.m., for eight weeks.

For more information and to register please call 410-632-0056.
